

Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts Elects Phyllis R. Yale as Chair of its Board of Directors

Election Marks First Woman Chair in the Company's 76-Year History Paula A. Price also Elected to Board; Bill Van Faasen Elected Chair Emeritus

BOSTON — May 21, 2014 — The Board of Directors of Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts (BCBSMA) has elected Phyllis R. Yale as its new Chair of the Board. BCBSMA is governed by a Board of Directors comprised of accomplished and experienced leaders who help shape the company's strategy in support of its mission to make quality health care affordable. While organized as a not-for-profit, BCBSMA is a large, complex, tax-paying commercial enterprise that operates in a competitive marketplace.

"Phyllis' election is an important moment in the proud history of our company," said Andrew Dreyfus, BCBSMA President and Chief Executive Officer. "Given the unprecedented change underway in our industry, Phyllis' 30 years of experience in health care will be an invaluable asset in helping our business evolve to best meet the needs of our members and employer customers in the future."

"Blue Cross is widely recognized as one of the most innovative and forward-looking health plans in the nation, and I'm eager to continue to work with Andrew, the senior management team, and my colleagues on the Board to build on that success," said Ms. Yale. Seasoned financial executive Paula A. Price has also been elected as a new Board member. "We are excited about the addition of Paula to our Board given her three decades of financial expertise," Dreyfus added. "Her leadership skills and talents have garnered her great respect both here in Massachusetts and throughout the country."

BCBSMA has a proud history of women directors. Women currently represent close to 40 percent of BCBSMA's Board and two important Board committees are led by women, making the company a market leader. The election of Ms. Yale as Chair and the addition of Ms. Price demonstrate BCBSMA's commitment to creating a diverse and inclusive environment to serve its nearly 3 million members.

BCBSMA also announced that William C. "Bill" Van Faasen will become Chair Emeritus. In this newly created unpaid role, Mr. Van Faasen will continue to serve as an important advisor to BCBSMA, though he will step away from his formal responsibilities as a member of the Board. Mr. Van Faasen has served in leadership roles at BCBSMA for nearly 25 years. Most recently, he was the company's Chairman of the Board. Prior to that he served as President and CEO from 1992- 2005 and was Chairman from 2002-2007. He served as interim President and CEO from March to September 2010. Mr. Van Faasen's leadership helped transform BCBSMA into one of the nation's leading health plans recognized for its comprehensive product portfolio, world-class member service, operational excellence, and financial strength.

"Blue Cross is extremely grateful to Bill for his continued guidance, leadership and commitment to our company for nearly twenty-five years," said Dreyfus. "Bill is deeply respected by our Board members, all BCBSMA associates and the broader business and civic community. I am grateful to be able to work with him in his new role as we strive to make quality health care affordable for our customers, members, and the community."

In selecting new members and electing a board chair, Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts' Board follows governance best practices to ensure the election of skilled directors who possess the requisite content expertise and leadership skills. In addition, by statute, Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts is required to have three directors who are officers or agents of contributing employers and two directors who represent labor. Consistent with good governance, the Board is committed to the important principle of transparency and public disclosure. As a result, the company posts to its public website the specific details of the director compensation program.
