

CareerBuilder Completes Workday Certified Integration Integration Helps Candidates Complete More Job Applications and Reduce Time-to-Hire

CHICAGO, June 23, 2021 /PRNewswire/ -- CareerBuilder, a Workday (NASDAQ:WDAY) Select software partner, today announced that it has achieved Workday Certified Integration status. CareerBuilder provides customers with a seamless integration that connects Workday Recruiting with CareerBuilder Talent Acquisition Suite.

Workday Recruiting is an end-to-end talent acquisition application that helps organizations manage their entire recruiting lifecycle in a unified system. The integration helps joint customers reduce time-to-hire, connect with more applicants and collect better candidate data. Because candidates can apply with one click and more seamlessly move through the hiring funnel, customers can receive more candidates for their open positions without having to leave their system.

"Given how competitive the job market is today, our integration with Workday helps reduce the candidate drop off many companies face, and simplifies the job hunt process by enabling candidates to apply in one click," said Irina Novoselsky, CEO of CareerBuilder. "We're excited to partner with Workday and support our customers with what matters most – helping them connect candidates to open job roles faster."

"Through the integration with CareerBuilder and Workday, Reddy Ice was able to create a seamless job application experience," said Angie Wallander, executive vice president of Reddy Ice. "The use of this integration led to a substantial increase in completed job applications which has helped us reduce our time to hire."
