

DISH Network to Exclusively Broadcast All Pakistani Cricket Home Games

EchoStar Communications Corporation (NASDAQ: DISH) and its DISH Network announced that it has acquired the rights to broadcast all Pakistani cricket home games in the U.S. for the remainder of 2005 through 2008.

"We are very excited to be the exclusive provider of all Pakistani home games through 2008," said Susan Arnold, vice president of Programming for DISH Network. "This is a great example of why we are the nation's leading TV provider of major cricket matches."

The first home tour is England's tour of Pakistan Nov. 11 through Dec. 21. DISH Network subscribers can watch the games live on channels 457/471. All three "Test Matches" and five "One-Day Internationals" are available for the package price of $99.95. A "One Day International" package is available for $79.95. To order, call 1-877-DISH PPV (347-4778) or visit www.dishnetwork.com/cricket.

DISH Network is also excited to offer live coverage of India's Tour of Pakistan in early 2006. Schedule, pricing and packaging will be announced as soon as that information is available. Subscribers can visit www.dishnetwork.com/ppv for updates.
