

DISH Responds to Sprint Formation of Special Committee

DISH proposal provides greater value to Sprint Shareholders and substantial benefits to American public

ENGLEWOOD, Colo.--DISH Network (NASDAQ: DISH) issued the following statement on news that Sprint Nextel's Board of Directors has formed a Special Committee and has retained financial and legal advisors to evaluate DISH's proposal to merge the two companies:

We are pleased that the Sprint Board of Directors has formed a special committee to review our proposal. We are available to meet with Sprint's Board, management and advisors to discuss our plans and our willingness to commit to financing. We are confident that the Sprint Board will share our view that this proposal is superior on several fronts by offering Sprint shareholders greater value with a higher price and more cash, while also creating the opportunity to participate meaningfully in a combined, and competitively unique, DISH/Sprint.

Our proposal creates a company with an industry-leading spectrum portfolio and the only company that can offer customers a fully-integrated, nationwide bundle of in- and out-of-home video, broadband and voice services while unlocking the full potential of Sprint's Network Vision. Additionally, the combined national footprints and scale of DISH/Sprint will provide substantial benefits to the American public by bringing improved broadband services to millions of homes with inferior or no access to competitive broadband services.
