

Ally Financial achieves carbon neutrality; announces launch of sustainability office

CHARLOTTE, N.C., Nov. 3, 2021 /PRNewswire/ -- Ally Financial Inc. (NYSE: ALLY) today announced it has achieved carbon neutrality for 2020 Scope 1 and Scope 2 emissions.

Ally's sustainability office, officially launched earlier this year, will oversee efforts related to climate change risk management across the company. The office will be led by Kathleen Price, who has been appointed environmental sustainability risk executive, reporting to Jason Schugel, chief risk officer.

Ally's commitment to "Do It Right" extends to the conservation of environmental resources to work towards a sustainable future for the company's customers, employees, shareholders and communities. As the impacts of climate change become more evident, Ally recognizes the importance of understanding, preparing for, and taking timely preventive action to mitigate both physical and transitional risks.

In July 2021, Ally submitted its inaugural climate change questionnaire to CDP, including the first assessment and calculation of greenhouse gas emissions including Scope 1, Scope 2 and relevant Scope 3 emissions for fiscal year 2020.

"As a digital bank with no brick-and-mortar branches, our carbon footprint is smaller than many of our peers, and this was confirmed by our calculation of greenhouse gas emissions," said Price. "We recognize that the offset of our operational emissions is only part of the positive impact we can have on sustainability more broadly, and we are committed to doing the work and identifying how Ally can better facilitate the transition to a low-carbon economy. We are excited about the relationships we have made in the sustainability sector and look forward to making ongoing progress for our customers, employees and communities in 2022 and beyond."

Additionally, Ally has identified the following priorities:

- Task Force on Climate-related Financial Disclosure (TCFD): Committed to developing a comprehensive enterprise environmental sustainability strategy that aligns with the recommendations from the Task Force on Climate-related Financial Disclosures, Ally will collect and analyze the data available, work to gather new data as needed and establish key partnerships within the industry to execute its initiatives and ensure timely disclosures.
- Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) Stakeholder Assessment: Ally is underway with a formal ESG Stakeholder Assessment that includes interviews with customers, investors, community partners, local governments and employees to gain perspective on ESG priorities.
- Employee Resource Group - "Green Teams": Began development of the Green Teams network, which will leverage the existing Employee Resource Groups at Ally, activating environmental engagement and promoting volunteer opportunities within local communities while furthering Ally's commitment to environmental sustainability.

To achieve carbon neutrality, Ally is working with the Arbor Day Foundation to offset its 2020 Scope 1 greenhouse gas emissions with high-quality, U.S.-based carbon offsets that address both afforestation and reforestation, particularly in the lower Mississippi River Valley, one of the most important critical wetland resources in North America. The company also engaged Natural Capital Partners to purchase Green-e Energy Certified renewable energy credits (RECs) which will cover its 2020 Scope 2 emissions.

In addition to verified carbon and renewable energy credits, Ally is sponsoring tree planting and distribution projects in locations with Ally employee concentrations in 2021 and 2022.

Additional information regarding Ally's sustainability actions is highlighted in the company's Form 10-Q that was filed with the SEC on Nov. 2, 2021.
