

Illinois American Water Announces 2024 “Water Keeps Life Flowing” Art Contest Winners

Elementary school students inspire environmental awareness through creativity

Belleville, Ill. (December 18, 2024) — Illinois American Water recently invited 3rd, 4th, and 5th grade students to showcase their creativity by submitting artwork to the company’s “Water Keeps Life Flowing” art contest. Hundreds of entries capturing the importance of high-quality water service were received. Illinois American Water chose 10 winners who earned their classrooms a $100 donation for school supplies or a classroom celebration.

“From paintings of water towers to drawings of personal hygiene practices, we are completely inspired by the creative ways students used their love of art and understanding of science to showcase the importance of clean, safe and reliable water service,” said Rebecca Losli, president of Illinois American Water.

The winning artwork will be showcased on the company’s Facebook page: @ilamwater. It will also be featured on future Illinois American Water customer communications.

Losli added, “Illinois American Water plays a critical role in customers’ daily lives by providing water service that supports vital activities and jobs. We encourage you to take a moment to reflect on the role that water plays in your own life, including careers, hobbies, and other activities.”

The art contest winners are listed below in no particular order:
