

Missouri American Water Proudly Recognizes American Water Charitable Foundation 2025 Water and Environment Grantees

Recipients include four nonprofit organizations across Missouri

ST. LOUIS, MO – April 23, 2025 – The American Water Charitable Foundation, a philanthropic non-profit organization established by American Water (NYSE: AWK), the largest regulated water and wastewater utility company in the U.S., recently announced four organizations were awarded a 2025 Water and Environment grant, supporting communities served by Missouri American Water.

“MCE is excited to receive this support to further our work educating Missourians on how to protect our watersheds from pollution and contaminants,” said Jared Opsal, executive director of the Missouri Coalition for the Environment.

The Water and Environment grant is part of the American Water Charitable Foundation’s Keep Communities Flowing Grant Program, focusing on three pillars of giving: Water, People and Communities.

“Environmental sustainability directly improves water quality as it promotes ways to protect watersheds and reduce pollution,” said Rich Svindland, president, Missouri American Water. “The selected projects will highlight the importance of protecting our water sources.”

Below is a list of grantees throughout Missouri.

- St. Louis Zoo – will support the purchase of eight sustainable drinking stations at their new Wildcare Park in St. Louis County
- Missouri River Relief – will support new education program connecting Jefferson City students to the Missouri River
- Beyond Housing – will help restore urban tree canopy and native prairie in the 24:1 community
- Missouri Coalition for the Environment Foundation – will support water quality advocacy to educate residents and legislators in Missouri

“The American Water Charitable Foundation is delighted to partner with eligible nonprofit organizations providing meaningful impact across Missouri,” said Carrie Williams, President, American Water Charitable Foundation. “Funding for Water and Environment grants supports projects focused on clean water, conservation, environmental education, climate variability, and water-based recreation.”
