

Southwestern Vermont Medical Center Joins Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts HMO Network

Agreement allows members affected by the North Adams Regional Hospital closure to seek services closer to home

BOSTON — April 23, 2014 — Southwestern Vermont Medical Center (SVMC), has joined the Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts (BCBSMA) provider network. Members of HMO Blue now have access to emergency and non-urgent services and can see any of the more than 70 physicians employed by SVMC.

"Southwestern Vermont Medical Center is known for providing exceptional, affordable, safe quality care, and we are truly thrilled about this new partnership," said Steven J. Fox, BCBSMA Vice President of Network Management and Communications. "We appreciate their willingness to immediately support our members affected by the North Adams Regional Hospital closure to ensure that they have continued access to the quality health care they need."

On March 28, BCBSMA released a statement on the North Adams Regional Hospital closure, with important information for its members.

Southwestern Vermont Health Care serves more than 55,000 people in the towns and villages of Bennington County and western Windham County and Southern Rutland County in Vermont, eastern Rensselaer County in New York and Northern Berkshire County in Massachusetts.

"The closure of North Adams Regional Hospital has left residents in the northern Berkshires with questions about where to go for care," said Thomas Dee, President and CEO of SVMC. "As the closest hospital to Williamstown and North Adams, being able to provide care for these communities is a priority, and we are pleased to be a network provider for Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts."

For more information about SVMC, to find a doctor or to schedule an appointment, call 802-442-6361. Members affected by the closure can also call a dedicated customer service line, 1-888-404-9846, Monday through Friday, between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. with any questions.
