

Enjoy Next-Level Experiences with the motorola razr 2024, Now Available at Boost Mobile

Boost Mobile adds the motorola razr 2024 to its device lineup – available on the Boost Mobile Network.

Sept. 10, 2024 – Boost Mobile is adding the motorola razr 2024 to its impressive device portfolio. Beginning today, Boost Mobile customers can head to BoostMobile.com and purchase the new motorola razr for $199.99 with Boost Mobile's Unlimited Premium service plan.

The latest version of motorola's iconic flip phone, the motorola razr 2024, is flipping the script and elevating user experience. Now with a 2.4x larger, fully functional 3.6" external display, users can see and do more without flipping the device open, from getting help with Google Gemini to playing music. And, if you need more screen space, users can flip open the device to experience the ultra-wide immersive 6.9" pOLED screen, which is backed by the multidimensional sound of Dolby Atmos. Thanks to the 50MP camera system with AI-powered stabilization, users can record smooth videos while on the go. Plus, Flex View enables users to capture and create in new ways at multiple angles – whether it's using the phone like a camcorder, stepping into a personal photo booth, or snapping hands-free selfies.

"Boost Mobile customers can now purchase the latest foldable smartphone the motorola razr 2024 through Boost Mobile and pair it with one of our unbeatable unlimited 5G data plans starting at just $25 per month," said Sean Lee, SVP of Consumer Product and Marketing, Boost Mobile. "The latest motorola razr is compatible with the Boost Mobile Network, offering fast speeds enabling the foldable's next-level experiences."

The motorola razr 2024 is also turning up the volume and bringing users 20 percent louder speakers than the previous version. The 6.9" internal display is the largest of any flip phone, giving you a bigger, brighter view of entertainment and everything else. Experience over a billion shades of 10-bit color thanks to HDR10+ certification and 120% of DCI-P3 gamut, bringing users' favorite movies and shows to a whole new level.

Powered by the MediaTek Dimensity 7300X processor, the motorola razr 2024 accelerates the way users work and play with improved power efficiency that extends battery life, letting users get more done on a single charge. With up to 8GB of LPDDR4X memory users can switch between apps smoothly, making this device a multitasker's dream.

The motorola razr 2024 can be purchased at BoostMobile.com for $199.99 when paired with Boost Mobile's $60/mo. Unlimited Premium plan. New customers who port their number to Boost Mobile can get the motorola razr for $99.99 with the Unlimited Premium plan. Boost Mobile's superfast 5G network keeps customers connected with faster download speeds, streaming and gaming. With access to more towers than any other carrier, Boost Mobile customers receive unmatched reliability and connectivity.
