Boost Mobile is Now Available in More Than 8,000 Walgreens Locations Nationwide

Boost Mobile continues its expansion into even more national retail locations with customers throughout the U.S. now able to sign-up for new wireless service at Walgreens. Boost Mobile has added almost 16,000 partner retail doors in just the past few months as it looks to bring low cost affordable wireless plans to more Americans.

Boost Mobile is strategically growing its capacity to meet more customers where they are, focusing on the addition of established retail partners that add tens of thousands of touchpoints and make it easier for consumers to switch.

"We want to make affordable wireless accessible to all Americans, regardless of where they live or shop," said Stephen Stokols, who heads Boost Mobile. "With Americans becoming more and more cost conscious, the addition of retail partners like Walgreens enables us to meet our customers in all parts of their lives, helping them discover a more affordable wireless option."

Non-traditional wireless retailers, like convenience stores and pharmacies, provide easy access to new service and payments in even more communities. These additional brick and mortar locations also provide purchase and activation opportunities for customers who prefer in-person retail transactions. Other recent partner expansions of SIM kits have included 7-Eleven and Kroger. These new partnerships compliment Boost Mobile's existing national retail relationships with Walmart, Target and Best Buy - which offer both devices and SIM kits for customers.
