

DISH Releases 2017 Corporate Citizenship Report

Report showcases DISH's efforts to invest in its team members, support its local communities, and drive sustainable business practices

ENGLEWOOD, Colo., June 6, 2018 /PRNewswire/ -- DISH released its 2017 Corporate Citizenship Report today featuring the achievements of DISH Cares, the company's corporate social responsibility program. The report outlines accomplishments across the program's three key pillars: Our People, Our Community and Our Planet.

"DISH team members have been dedicated to customer service since day one, and DISH Cares is a natural extension of that mindset, connecting communities together through positive change," said Erik Carlson, DISH President and CEO. "As DISH TV and Sling TV continue to grow, we remain committed to improving the local communities our customers and our team members call home."

Highlights from 2017:

- 110,000 hours of internet & TV service was provided to disaster relief organizations and their workers at relief sites across the nation including Texas, Florida and Puerto Rico.
- 7,023 hours of service to nonprofits by DISH Cares teams.
- 50,000 trees planted in partnership with our customers and American Forests.
- 2,220,468 alternative fuel miles driven in DISH tech vans.
- 4,026 DISH team members completed 35,000 hours of LEAD training, DISH's flagship leadership development program.
