

Luxury Hotel Offers Direct Access to Airport's New International Terminal and Skylink

DALLAS –Summer 2005– Grand Hyatt DFW opened on July 1st, 2005 with a special ribboncutting ceremony and patriotic themed grand opening celebration. The 12story, 298room hotel adjoins the new International Terminal D at Dallas/Fort Worth International Airport and marks both the first Grand Hyatt to be located at an airport and the first to be built in Texas. DFW International Airport owns the hotel, and Chicago based Hyatt Hotels Corporation manages the property for the Airport.

“The new Grand Hyatt DFW offers international and domestic travelers a new luxurious alternative for overnight stays, conferences and other events, including the benefit of direct access into the International Terminal D and Skylink,” said George Vizer, general manager for the Grand Hyatt DFW. “I am confident that with an exceptional staff, coupled with unparalleled first - class accommodations, the Grand Hyatt DFW will deliver a superior guest experience for both business and leisure travelers.”

The 303,675squarefoot hotel features 298 guest rooms, a ballroom/banquet/meeting space, restaurants, lounge, roof top heated swimming pool and fully equipped fitness center with spa treatment rooms. All guest rooms offer a full range of amenities, such as pillow top Grand Beds, state of the art 32inch flat screen televisions with digital video on demand and premium cable service, oversized bathrooms outfitted with a freestanding shower and soaking tub, a spacious granite top work desk, high speed wired and wireless Internet access and two in room telephones. The hotel's meeting space is comprised of more than 34,000 square feet of ballrooms, banquet and meeting rooms and conference suites that offer individual or master controls for heat/AC, sound, music, telephones, multiple electrical/microphone outlets and programmable lighting effects. In addition, a full service business center is offered to hotel guests for their business needs.
