

Cognizant selected for global AI-driven workplace services transformation

Collaboration aims to enhance greater efficiency, adaptability and user satisfaction across the commercial vehicle manufacturer's operations

FRANKFURT, Germany, Feb. 24, 2026 /PRNewswire/ -- Cognizant (Nasdaq: CTSH) has been chosen by one of the world's largest commercial vehicle manufacturers to transform and modernise its global workplace services. This multi-year partnership aims to leverage artificial intelligence and automation to enhance workplace operations across global factories and offices.

The initiative will see the utilization of Cognizant WorkNEXT™ - a modern, flexible digital fabric powered by AI to create an unparalleled workplace experience. Cognizant WorkNEXT™ helps organizations build adaptive, integrated and human-centric workplaces, driving experience reliability and embracing automation through the right balance of AI first, zero touch and high-touch support.

"We are proud to work with one of the world's largest commercial vehicle manufacturers as they embark on this AI-led global transformation of their workplace services," said Ravi Kumar S, CEO Cognizant. "By applying artificial intelligence at the core of the workplace, alongside automation, human-centric design and responsible governance, we are helping enable a more intelligent, resilient and future-ready environment for Daimler Truck's global workforce."
